Illness stalls bill

Times-News Capital Bureau

BOISE — Action on a bill which effectively would prevent a lawsuit against the American Falls Dam replacement is being held up due to illness.

The measure sponsored by Rep. Ralph Olmstead, R-Twin Falls, now is up for amendment to narrow its scope. Rep. J. Ward Chabot, R-Albion, however, has his own amendment proposal to strike the bill's enacting clause, thereby killing the bill.

Chabot said Monday the attorney who is drafting the pre-bill amendments is ill. He said that "in deference" to the other side, consideration of his amendment also is being delayed until both sets of amendments can be before the legislature together.

Hailey youth escapes avalanche unhurt

By BART QUESNEL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — A 16-year-old Hailey youth was buried for nearly an hour and a half Monday in an avalanche but escaped unhurt.

His companion escaped the slide and summed help.

Neal Patterson, 16, survived a 60-foot wide "slab" slide just east of the Woldside Rock Climbing Club here which completely buried him under about two feet of snow.

Patterson and a friend, Mike Dunn, 15, were riding snowmobiles in a canyon behind the rock club Monday about 4:30 p.m. when the slide occurred. Both youths were off their machines resting at the time.

Patterson told the Times-News today he heard for a minutes.

"It was a rubble," he said. "I looked up and saw the slide coming at me and started running. However the slide passed over down hill."

Patterson said he tried to swim to the top of the slide and cupped his arms over his head, hoping to secure enough breathing space to keep him alive.

"He said there were times when he thought he would die.

"But I tried not to think about it," he said. "Yes, I did pray."

Patterson said he remembered seeing Dunn running in front of the slide and thought he escaped. He was hoping that had happened, he matched his running at the time.

The boy said he blacked out while under the he said. He was getting very cold and wet.

Dunn apparently escaped the slide but had to dig out his snow machine. After the machine was freed, he rode into the Hailey police department and reported the incident of about 5 p.m.

The sheriff's office was notified as were Forest Service personnel trained in avalanche rescue. The Blaine County search and rescue unit mobilized immediately and had about 20 men at the site in minutes.

A systematic "course" probe line was formed. Two electrical contractors with the search and rescue unit had electrical conduit in their vehicles used for the probe.

After about 15 minutes of probing, rescuers found the boy about 6 p.m. on the northern edge of the slide.

The two men started digging with their hands and freed Patterson.

Patterson was conscious when they uncovered him. He was rushed to Blaine County Hospital.

He said he felt fine this morning and is expected to be released Wednesday.

Forest Service employee Frank Roland said when they rescued Patterson he was in shock and may have been in the first stage of hypothermia, depressed body temperature.

Roland said Patterson was very lucky to be alive today. Forest Service statistics he said, prove that an individual stands less than a 50 per cent chance of living after the first hour.

Celebrants leave mess

PARADE of samba dancers passes through Rio de Janeiro as the pre-Lent carnival reaches its climax. Some 30,000 dancing feats and masquerade were watched by more than 80,000 persons. Carnival season ends tonight, with Ash Wednesday marking the start of Lent. (UPI)

New TF sewer rate due for new look

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — City Council appears to take another look at proposed higher sewer service rates after they were protested Monday night by motel and mobile home park owners.

Commercial firms, including motels, face much higher sewer bills under the proposal and multiple billing rates would jump from $1 to $1.75 a month. Mobile home parks outside the city pay double the regular fee, which would bring their bills to $3.50 per month for each unit under the new rates.

Flu outbreak shuts schools

By GEORGE WILLEY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Schools in Kimberly and Bliss were closed today and high rates of absenteism were reported in Twin Falls as the latest flu epidemic continued to take its toll.

Magee Valley Memorial Hospital issued special visitors' restrictions in an effort to slow down spread of the virus among its already hard hit staff.

Kimberly schools were closed today when absenteism among teachers reached 70 percent and when substitutes could not be found.

The schools' student absentee rate was running about 70 percent, officials said. They were hoping to resume classes Wednesday.

Bliss schools were also closed today, with that closure to last until Thursday. Bliss officials said about 25 percent of the students were out mostly with the flu, but also with measles.

In Twin Falls, District 411 superintendent George Staudt said absenteism was running about 70 percent overall.

Despite the widespread incidence of illness in the Valley, no flu was officially reported in the Valley, said flu watch official reported.

The Bureau of Preventive Medicine of the Department of Health and Welfare listed only 12 reported cases of influenza in the eight-county region, all of them from Jerome.

There was no influenza reported in Twin Falls County nor the rest of the Valley with the exception of Jerome.

"Some of it (the flu) is influenza and others may be similar viruses which aren't being reported," Dr. John Mothers, director of the Bureau said.

Magee Valley Memorial Hospital was one of several hospitals which imposed visitation restrictions in an effort to control the epidemic.

After the protests, Mayor Earl Dayson scheduled a council work session Friday to review the proposed rates.

Jack Hammund, an official of the engineering firm that studied sewer use in the city, recommended the rates, said the proposed charge-to-each-type-of-user-is-based-on-the quantity of strength of sewage produced.

He pointed out that residential users have subsidized commercial and industrial users in the past.

City Engineer George Michael said residential users pay between 33 and 50 cents per 4,000 gallons under the existing rates, while large water users (including some commercial firms) pay less than 5 cents.

Harold Hoover, owner of a Twin Falls mobile home park, said the occupancy-rate for mobile homes in the city is 1.68 people per unit, compared to three or more residents in standard homes. Residential rates would increase to $2.98 a month from the current $2 under the new rates.

Hoover suggested that the rate to mobile homes should be less since they generate less sewage per living unit.

Patty Hearst defense rests

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney F. Lee Bailey, who had just lost his second legal battle of the day, turned to the Judge at Patricia Hearst's bank robbery trial and announced: "Your honor, the defense rests."

Bailey ended his 12-day presentation after U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter rejected a defense motion for dismissal of all charges on grounds the government had withheld evidence from the defense.

The Judge earlier had directed the jury to hear testimony from an expert on "speech patterns" who said the heiress' revolutionary statements on Symbionese Liberation Army tape recordings were written by members of the kidnap gang.

Twelve witnesses were called by the defense, with the 22-year-old defendant spending a week on the stand telling of being held in a closet, raped and threatened until she joined her kidnappers in the robbery to avoid being killed.

After the defense rested, Carter recessed the trial until today when the prosecution begins its rebuttal testimony. The case could go to the jury today, but it is more likely to wind up early next week.

Unity slows AF contract action

By SHANE O'NEILL
Times-News writer

IDAHO FALLS — Consideration of irrigator replacement Monday delayed a contract needed for replacement of the American Falls Dam.

The Committee of Nine steered a cautious path through the controversy that surrounds the $45 million dam replacement project.

The committee refused to endorse a resolution proposed in the Snake River operations agreement for the period when the dam would be under construction.

The resolution would have advised the regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation that holders of two-thirds of the space in the existing American Falls Dam were agreed on a method of sharing water during construction.

It was requested by John Rosholt, attorney for American Falls' Reservoir District Number One, the constructing agency for the replacement dam under a joint spaceholder Idaho Power Company program.

The Committee of Nine, a subcommittee of the nine-county commission, was asked to support the resolution.

Hearst defense loses skirmish, rests

The San Francisco Chronicle reported today one of the first prosecution witnesses will be a Vietnamese war veteran who claims he saw Miss Hearst enter the bank, knock her to the ground. Miss Hearst repeatedly said during her testimony that she did not know if her gun was loaded and that she did not have available ammunition.

The newspaper said the witness, Big Berzins, accidentally closed the door of the bank as Miss Hearst entered, knocking her to the ground. Miss Hearst did not mention the incident in her testimony.

An early spring break is in full swing in the southern Rockies, with snow-covered bulls blooming in Indianapolis and cherry trees beginning to blossom in Washington.

As much as 10 inches of snow melted in Upper Michigan and sections of the state's lower peninsula. Minnesota officials urged motorists to stay off the highways in the Duluth area, where 50 miles an hour winds drifted the snow and visibility was described as "poor."

Accidents on slippery roads were blamed for two deaths in Minnesota and one in Michigan.

High winds stuck up deep drifts near Alpena and Cheboygan, Mich. The Automobile Club of Michigan said driving conditions were poor in the Saginaw Bay area and central portions of the lower peninsula where as much as eight inches of new snow was on the ground.

More than 30 school districts in Michigan called off classes. Interstate 75 was down to one lane in some areas. Ice deposited by freezing rain strapped power lines and left more than Government forecaster Murry Green in Detroit said it was just normal March weather.

"We still have lots more to come," he predicted.

Snow hits upper Midwest

By United Press International

Late winter snowstorms piled heavy snows on the upper Midwest and West today, stranding traffic in five-foot drifts, closing hundreds of schools and causing power failures in the Great Lakes states.

An early spring break is in full swing in the southern Rockies, with snow-covered bulls blooming in Indianapolis and cherry trees beginning to blossom in Washington.

As much as 10 inches of snow melted in Upper Michigan and sections of the state's lower peninsula. Minnesota officials urged motorists to stay off the highways in the Duluth area, where 50 miles an hour winds drifted the snow and visibility was described as "poor."

Accidents on slippery roads were blamed for two deaths in Minnesota and one in Michigan.

High winds stuck up deep drifts near Alpena and Cheboygan, Mich. The Automobile Club of Michigan said driving conditions were poor in the Saginaw Bay area and central portions of the lower peninsula where as much as eight inches of new snow was on the ground.

More than 30 school districts in Michigan called off classes. Interstate 75 was down to one lane in some areas. Ice deposited by freezing rain strapped power lines and left more than 20,000 Detroit homes and commercial establishments without electricity for varying times.

Courts, not legislature should decide AF dam issue

The Idaho Legislature is taking a potentially dangerous stand which may be outside its Constitutional authority by considering a bill which denies court access to opponents of the American Falls Dam replacement project.

State legislators currently are considering a bill which effectively would block Mini-Cassia area waterusers from challenging in court the validity of the recently approved American Falls Dam replacement contracts.

Introduced into the legislature by Sen. John Barker, R-Twin Falls, the measure would force Mini-Cassia waterusers who want to go to court to fight the American Falls dam to post a bond to cover rising costs of construction while the court challenge is decided.

Bonds could be enormous. If a judge decided that a case could delay the project for, say, six months during 10 per cent inflation, the bond could be $2 million.

Supporters of the bill believe the dissident waterusers would be hard-pressed to post such large bonds needed to cover rising costs on the $4 million dam construction project. As a result, the bill would force the dissidents to drop their legal challenge to the dam because they couldn't come up with the bond money.

Sen. Barker, who also serves as President of the American Falls Reservoir District, justifies his bill on the grounds that a large majority of the irrigators who draw water from American Falls dam have voted in favor of the replacement project. Barker contends these spaceholders in the dam want the reconstruction project to begin as soon as possible and do not want to have a handful of dissidents stop the entire process.

The Minidoka and Burley Irrigation districts do represent only a small percentage of the total waterusers. Since the districts have long opposed the American Falls Dam replacement there is a chance that they are trying to oppose the dam just to harass the Bureau of Reclamation and Idaho Power Company who were backers of the replacement project.

That should be a question for the courts to decide.

Sen. Barker's bill probably speaks for the majority of waterusers who don't want to see the American Falls Dam replacement delayed. Certainly the Senator is attempting to work for his constituents by drafting the bill.

The troubling side effect of Barker's bill is that it is a legislative attempt to block access to the American judicial system. The bill clearly violates a fundamental assumption in this country that all free men are allowed access to the courts to air their grievances.

Idaho irrigators would be bitterly disappointed if the American Falls dam project slipped through their fingers. At the same time, waterusers must realize legislation aimed at cutting off court access to some of their neighbors isn't in the best interests of American constitutional government.

Supporters of the American Falls Dam replacement must realize that the Minidoka and Burley Irrigation districts will have to produce some hefty evidence in the courts to stop the American Falls Dam replacement, at this late date. If the dissidents do not have a good case the courts surely will dismiss the challenge to the replacement of the dam.

But the critics of the dam should be allowed to have their day in court, free from the obstructions imposed by the state legislature.

It is the courts, not the legislature, which has the constitutional right to decide the American Falls dam question.

Castro's zealots threat

© N.Y. Times Service

LONDON — An important question currently faces the world: Is the Cuban troops, which backed the MPLA victory in Angola, wage fighters because of Fidel Castro's zeal for Third World revolutionary causes, or because they suit his Soviet ally's strategic purposes as ideological mercenaries helping him to international power-hunting?

If they are military hawks serving at Russia's beck and call, their purpose is dangerous enough from a United States point of view. They can be (and have been) introduced at any corner of the globe, subject to Soviet logistical and re-equipment help.

Thus, they can aid the U.S.S.R.'s overall cause while the Kremlin pretends to honor its own implied pledges of last summer's Helsinki accord. If this is the case, it is important to recall that Cuba would assault the U.S. and Cuban "solidarity" in enterprises that "might" provoke the U.S.A. out of its present inactivity, but those "enterprises" in the Western Hemisphere?

However, if (as I suspect to be the case) Cuban "solidarity" forces are war-weary, devout activists of the international revolution in Havana sees it, they could well show up in areas considered sympathetic by Washington, Latin America, areas such as those now being explored by Henry Kissinger, or even where the Soviets' influence wanes, like the Panama Canal Zone or Puerto Rico. Then the fat would really be in the fire.

There is much evidence that Castro, a former communist, today puts ideological considerations above military ones, and that this has been the motivation behind a long series of Cuban military interventions around the earth, not only Angola but Algeria, Syria, Congo, Guinea, Guinea-Bissau, Somalia, South Yemen and even Oman. To say nothing in the 1960s of Zaire, the Dominican Republic, Venezuela, Panama and Bolivia.

Castro is clearly around, and excited by this martial record, extraordinary for an undeveloped land with less than 10 million inhabitants. He boasts of supporting and Western Hemisphere. These convenience Soviet interests and minimize the risk of major trouble with the United States. But Castro the ideologist, as well as Castro the Cuban, clearly was a primary concern with the area next to his island home. Despite his nation's "Latin-American" heritage, it is Latin-American first.

Regardless of an astonishing spread of overseas commitments from Angola and Guinea to Somalia and the Zénith Cuba still manages to maintain troops in Guyana, on Venezuela's flank, and is training Peruvian pilots at air bases near Havanna. Nor has Castro abandoned Moscow's insistence to unite when the U.S.S.R. became it-wanted-to-stay-out-of Uncle Sam's backyard.

Six months ago, Cuba staged an International Solidarity Conference, supporting Puerto Rican independence. It pledged: "We will never abandon our Puerto Rican brothers even if this impedes relations with the United States for ten years." Last month, General Torrijos, Panama's boss, visited Havana and was encouraged to press ever harder for full control of the Canal and the U.S. Zone.

If Castro is truly an ideological zealot and determined to press what he believes to be the revolution's cause wherever possible, it is inevitable that some day he will ignore Soviet cautionary counsels and take another Latin-American gamble.

At the cost of his total army manpower (1.275 million) Cuban militarized over 100,000 is now overseas. Is it not likely that eventually this tough, battle-hardened force will be assigned to an expedition nearer home?

No alternative to agreement plan

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Edward Levi summed up the problem of protecting information affecting the national security: "There is nothing new to enforce secrecy by law."

This resolution probably will astound most Americans, and intimately associates with the country's intelligence community. But there it is. As of today, the government's only recourse in cases where intelligence material is leaked and/or made public is to bring charges for espionage or for that of a government documents.

That is why President Ford is trying to do make crude sense. Starting Monday, under executive order, all staffing officials with access to classified information containing intelligence "sources" and methods" will be required to sign an agreement that they will not disclose it to persons not authorized to receive it.

In spy language, "sources and methods" refer to agents, informants or "intelligence" which operations are carried out by the National Security Agency and other agencies, already sign such agreements. Ford would secure similar agreements from many other government officials who have access to classified intelligence material.

The Ford plan makes crude sense because there is no alternative. A signed "secrecy agreement" is a contract between the individual and the government, and civil action may be taken if the contract is breached. This is the minimum if you are going to have any effective legal remedy against any and all disclosures," says the attorney general, no "loyalty" fanatic.

Through executive orders and new legislation Ford will seek both civil and criminal "sanctions" against violators of that contract. His plan, in the words of White House Counsel Philip Morris, will "give the administration a real threat over people who can't be controlled by discipline." In other words, the aim is deterrence, which is what any law in the field should be about.

Human nature being what it is, most government employees take a lot of encouraging to agree with secrecy policies.

Moreso, the three-man board is heavily Establishment: It includes the veteran former diplomat, Robert Murphy, and Stephen Alles, former Army secretary, neither known as bon-vivants, and Les Cheron, an economist whose genuine liberalism has never led him into troublemaking. In short, it still will be a struggle to expose government bungling in the foreign policy-national security area.

ANDREW TULLY

Congress, I trust, will require the administration to be more specific about that section of the new charter for the intelligence community which authorizes domestic spying.

Top Democrat candidates step up Florida efforts

Miami (UPI) — Jimmy Carter, George C. Wallace, Henry M. Jackson and Milton Shapp—the four candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination—risked their chances in the primary campaign to step up their campaign today a week in advance of the South's first balloting.

While the voters pick their choices in Massachusetts and Vermont, the four candidates are campaigning across the state in pursuit of a primary victory and a share of the 81 delegate votes.

Wallace and Shapp are concentrating on the Miami area; Jackson has scheduled stops in Miami, Sarasota and Tampa before heading to Boston. In watch the Massachusetts and Vermont primaries, Carter has been traveling to swing states—Miami, St. Louis, Sarasota and Orlando.

In a rare joint appearance last night, Carter, Jackson and Shapp sparred on a 60-minute televised program sponsored by the League of Women Voters—the second of five scheduled forums.

Wallace and the two Republican candidates—President Ford and Ronald Reagan—have called the program.

The three Democrats called for a national one-check welfare system and the need for an national health care program. But they clashed on the issue of Social Security—federal—how much elderly persons can earn before losing benefits and elimination of tax deductions for home mortgage payments.

A scattering sample of reaction around the state indicated that the three candidates failed to stir the voters. "On the whole, it's the deftest dull thing I've ever seen in politics," Robert Ostesen, a 30-year-old teaching assistant at the University of Florida commented.

Ostesen called Carter "too slick" and Rud. Deetons, a 25-year-old political science student, labeled the former Georgia governor "cunning" but with a good sense of humor who "seemed to be on the right track."

Deetons said, "I think Jackson lost points."

But a Tampa attorney and Democratic official said, "I thought it was excellent" for those people who wanted to know how the candidates stood on current issues. "I think the answer is that most people are satisfied with that meet."

Astronomy published by the Florida Publishing Co. and released yesterday showed Carter winning among Democrats with 274 votes to 165 for Wallace and 75 for Jackson.

Ford bested Deetons among Republicans, 239 to 223.

Kremlin aid goal

MOSCOW (UPI) — While many American presidential candidates turned for support to primary states like Massachusetts and Vermont, one came to the Kremlin.

Gus Hall, the low-key leader of America's Communists and his party's presidential aspirant once again, besetting the kind of buildup in Moscow his rivals might year for at home.

He has appeared on evening television several times over the past two weeks, and Monday brought delegates to the 25th party congress to their first with a rousing demonstration of Western imperialism.

His speech was also noteworthy—because he sought not only assistance from Communist leaders from other Western nations, who used the congress to chart their own independent line.

Test pilot dies in plane crash

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI) — Lt. Col. Michael V. Love, test pilot for a successfully completed NASA program that paved the way for a generation of space shuttle planes, was killed Monday on a pre-flight flight.

Love, 37, was piloting an F4C fighter that crashed on Rogers dry lake bed.

The navigator, Maj. Ellin B. Underwood Jr., ejected from the plane shortly before it crashed. He was hospitalized in stable condition at George Air Force Base.

Love of Hanna, Wyo., was the chief Air Force pilot assigned to the X-24B program, which was completed last September. A co-pilot represented the National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

The X-24B was a wingless aircraft, designed to test theories for development of space ships that could be flown to earth and landed like airplanes. Such spacecraft would avoid the expense and waste of space capsules that drop by parachute into the ocean, where they must be recovered by ships, and cannot be flown again.

(Because of the crash, investigation is under way.)

Star sidelined

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Russian ballet star Valery Panov will be sidelined for a minimum of three to five weeks because of a probable torn calf muscle, the San Francisco Ballet said Sunday night.

Panov was injured Thursday night while dancing in his new ballet "Heart of the Mountains." Dr. John Callender examined the star during the weekend and advised him that he probably had suffered a torn calf muscle.

Actor goes to court

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The "Heart" of "Deep Throat," Sandi, has worked in more than 300 X-rated films but this is the first time he had to go to federal court over one, and his casting, Linda Lovelace, is testifying for the prosecution.

"Man, this is awful," said Harry Streicher, better known as Harry Reems, as he joined 10 other defendants in court Monday for a trial on obscenity charges.

Streicher, 10 individuals and four corporations are charged with violation of federal laws.

Lenny denied

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Timothy Leary, the "turn on, tune in, drop out" LSD guru of the sixties, must spend at least the next two years in prison. The U.S. Embassy here asked suppliers in Florida to send the gunpowder to the Bahamas government, which needs it for a bicentennial salute of the first overseas assault by the U.S. Navy.

The Navy and Marines attacked Nassau on March 3, 1776, and captured a quantity of gunpowder for Washington's army.

Three U.S. warships will anchor in the bayous alongs of Fort Charlotte Wednesday to commemorate the event.

The Bahamas government wants to free one of the fort's cannons to welcome the USS William G. Lawrence, Capt. Robert A. Owens and USS Meredith, but is short of gunpowder to charge the antique weapon.

A U.S. Embassy official said Leary would arrive from Florida in time for the shot.

Comic strip discontinued

© N.Y. Times Service

NEW YORK — Little Orphan Annie is calling it quits in New York City.

The Daily News, the city's exclusive showcase for the daily and Sunday adventures of the wifey wife "Daddy" Warbucks, since their creation by Harold Gray in 1924, had decided to discontinue the comic strip this month.

Citing readership surveys indicating a declining popularity, a spokesman for The News said the last Sunday strip would run on March 14 and the last daily strip on March 20.

Henry and Kirk

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and his wife Nancy stayed over an extra day at the desert home of their host, Kirk Douglas, but just a few days.

Cold rain fell throughout the day Monday, on the usually warm and sunny desert resort.

Kissinger flew to Palm Springs Friday following his nine-day tour of Latin America to join his wife, who had been recuperating from stomach surgery at Douglas' home.

Court to hear appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court has accepted for argument a cause that could force appeals court judges to view X-rated movies they will rate on.

The appeal stemmed from a conviction of operators of the Cinema X Theatre in Newport, Ky., for showing "Deep Throat," "Swing High," and previews of such films as "Memories of a Madman" and "A Few Bloody More."

The appeal said the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals erred in depending on affidavits describing the explicit sexual conduct shown in the films instead of independently viewing the films.

Price comes down

CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Shirley's Feb. 25 primary east Texas 11th-hour campaign for write-in votes for John Connally of Texas in New Hampshire returned stolen religious objects by them to decorate a statue in the main square.

"They also would like to know from where the chalice, chalice, aspergillum, missal and paten arranged on the status of local hero Giuseppe Nino were taken,"

Connally said.

TWIN FALLS CHIEF TRIBUNE & X NEWS SYNDICATE

DEAR READERS: Yesterday, my column included the first half of the results of my reader survey on what women first notice about men. ("Physical" won first place, capturing 58 per cent of the vote, with "grooming" — including attire — in close second and eyes third.)

Here are the rest of the results. Women who ranked "smile" — including the teeth — were the most popular choice, with 26 per cent.

Next the writer: Those who said they first notice a man's voice remarked that they find a deep, resonant voice most appealing.

About one per cent said they first notice "well-made jewelry," such as a wedding ring, a friendship ring, a necklace, bracelets, etc. "Sign" (that he is "taken") (An Arkansas woman wrote, "A man who would allow a possessive woman to hunch him like a dog") (Keep Off Signs) is ninth and immature. She can have him!

6 MV students will attend symposium

TWIN FALLS Six Magic Valley, high school students have been selected to attend the Panhandle Intermediate Painter Science and Humanities Symposium in Salt Lake City Wednesday, 10 Saturday.

Those students, who will attend the four-day meeting include Jerome Ball and David Honick, both Trapper Butte High School; Chad Dixon, Valley High School; Roger Carter, Kimberly High School, and Linda Strope and David Morris, both Twin Falls High School.

They are among the 20 students chosen from Idaho who will join other students from the intermountain states and tour the medical and scientific laboratories on the university campus. There will be lectures, experiments, scientists and professors, and attend other related programs. The annual expense-paid symposium will be held at the University of Utah with joint sponsorship of the U.S. Army.

Linda is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Strope, and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Craig Morris. Roger is the son of Dr. and Mrs. David L. Carter, Kimberly.

Chad's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dixon, Hunt. Jerome is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ball, and David Honick's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.V. Honick, all Buhl.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Almer Allen, Twin Falls.

Participants in the symposium will be held at the University of Utah with joint sponsorship of the U.S. Army.

The workshop will be conducted in morning and evening sessions, 9 a.m. to noon and 6 to 9 p.m.

Jerry Richardson, ANA field representative of EGW, will be the featured speaker. Gretchen Rust, Sun Valley, is workshop coordinator. Registration will be $2 for members and $3 for non-members. All nurses are invited to attend.

Pfizer Laboratories division of Pfizer Inc. has completed a medical information program at the company's New York training center.

TWIN FALLS The Magic Valley Hospital Board of Directors' meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Ramada Inn, Burley. Don Chand, Twin Falls, will lead the program with a talk on new trials.

TWIN FALLS — The Licensed Practical Nurses will hold a regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the hospital auditorium on the second floor. Speakers are Kristi Burkett and Dorothy Mathews, Jacobs, who will speak on the Idaho Board of Education for LPNS.

JEROME — Eltery B. Shinn, Jerome, has received a bachelor of science degree from the University of the State of New York.

A Tucson woman expressed it typically: "First, I notice how he's built, then the expression in his eyes, then whether he's good-looking or not, but the most significant part of a man is his reaction to ME." If he shows interest in me, I want to keep him longer. His line of conversation is important. I need to know: Does he talk about himself, or does he ask me questions about myself? Egocentric men talk about themselves. Generous men ask questions. If he talks about others, is he kind?" Does he gossip?

"Does he ever say, 'I don't know?' If I like a man who is quick to admit that he doesn't have all the answers? Is he profane? Is he intelligent? Is he bigoted? Is he informed? After 10 minutes, I know whether I like him or not."

Most women who wrote that they first notice about a man is his packaging assured me that it was what's on the outside that counts. Letter after letter emphasized that what usually attracts a woman to a man is not necessarily what attracts her interests.

Women placed much more importance on "behavior" than the men did in their survey.

A Washington Star reader put it eloquently: "The first thing I notice about a man is his attitude toward others. A man who respects himself will show respect for others. A gentle man will listen. An unselfish man will not interrupt. A considerate man will defer. A spiritual man will not use the name of the Lord in vain. A clean-minded man will not offend others by vulgar language. When I look at a man, I don't look at his 'build,' his physique, his shoes or even his face to see if he is handsome physically. I look at his soul by listening to him. And if he is spiritual, considerate, unselfish, clean and respectable, he is a beautiful man. Worth knowing better. And perhaps worth loving."

Moisture at right time could save wheat crops

N.Y. Times Service — GARDEN CITY, Kan. — The thin and spindly-in-the-wind "dangled him" the "tractor as he went back and forth across what had been a field of swing winter wheat.

He was dragging a huge winged chisel over the belted ground, plowing in the deep furrows to reveal more of the fragile topsoil from the hills already lost more than half of the 300 acres in heat that he planted last fall. But it does not rain in the next few weeks, he may lose the rest of it.

The drought has lowered most of the winter wheat in the dust-bowl areas of south-central Kansas and the panhandle of Oklahoma and Texas, and crop-forecasters are convinced that this year's yields will be much smaller than last year's record crop.

At the same time, the forecasters say that the drought will not last another dust bowl as bad as those of the mid-thirties and the mid-fifties at least not this year.

Part of the wheat still in the parched land in southeast Kansas and northwest Oklahoma, the two largest wheat states, can still be saved with an inch or two of rain at the right time, and that one amount of rain would double the yield of good wheat crops, the richer parts of central Kansas and Oklahoma.

The forecasters say that even if there is no more rain this spring in the winter wheat belt, the wheat left from last year's crop now expected to be 400 million to 500 million bushels which is almost a year's domestic supply plus what will be grown this year, will provide enough for domestic use and for some exports to America's regular customers abroad.

However, a continued drought would mean a much smaller total American crop and higher export prices, which would mean a hardship for poor people living in the developing countries where we could do all right with half a crop and good high prices. But if Ford stops exports again, we could be caught with half a crop and low prices, and that would be mighty painful.

Many farmers in the old dust bowl areas will suffer a sharp drop in their 1976 income if it does not rain soon.

But many of them have part of their 1975 wheat crops still in storage. They can sell this at a good price if their 1976 crop fails.

"Looking at it at its worst, there's still plenty of wheat left for American use and to sell some abroad," Kenneth Clegg, manager of the U.S. Wheat Council, says. "As far as they don't import敞ge on state trust, we could do all right with half a crop and good high prices. But if Ford stops exports again, we could be caught with half a crop and low prices, and that would be mighty painful."

BICENTENNIAL FACTS

The "Philadelphia paper, Pennsylvania Evening Post," published from 1775 to 1784 by Benjamin Towne, was the first daily newspaper in America. By 1775 there were 37 newspapers in the colonies; political division was 23 patriot, seven loyalists, and seven neutralists. Washington's "Almanac" recalls that the "New York Mercury" published two editions during the Revolutionary War.

Sports

Irish whip West Mich.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Bill Paterno scored nine of Notre Dame's 17 points in overtime Monday night to lead the Fighting Irish to a 95-88 win over Western Michigan. It was only the second loss against 22 wins for Western Michigan, which plays Miami of Ohio Wednesday night with the Mid-American Conference championship at stake. Notre Dame earned its 22nd win against five defeats with its 12th win in 17 home games this season.

Adrian Dantley sparked Notre Dame's scoring with 13 points, hitting 12 of 18 field goal attempts and nine straight free throws. Paterno had 11 points, Duck Williams 16 points and Bruce Flowers 12.

Jeff Tyson led Western Michigan with 29 points.

Vols nip Miss. State

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UPI) — Tennessee's Bernard King was in the right place at the right time Monday night, and followed up a defected Tennessee pass with three seconds remaining to give the Vols a 78-76 Southeastern Conference victory over Mississippi State.

The win clinches at least a second-place SEC finish for the Vols and almost assures them a trip to the NCAAs. King, who gathered in Ernie Grunfeld's pass when it had hit the backboard, was all alone in the lane to sink the winning basket. Mississippi State's Wally Peck had fallen down trying to reach the bad pass.

Mississippi State, which never led, battled back from down in the second half to tie the game 76-76 with 25 seconds remaining when Peck scored a layup. Tennessee killed the next minute and three seconds before putting the final play into action.

King led all scorers with 31 points followed by Grunfeld with 26.

State had four players in double figures paced by Ray White's 21 and Gary Hooker's 17. Wiley finished with 14, while Walter Wright had 12.

Northwestern bows to No. 4 Indiana

EVANSTON, Ill. (UPI) — Indiana's top-ranked and unbeaten Hoosiers will Scott May leading the way with 25 points, moved to within one game of a second consecutive perfect Big Ten season Monday night, defeating Northwestern 76-61.

Indiana stretched its regular season string to 56 games and 36 in the conference. May, the conference's fourth-leading scorer, had 17 of his total points in the first half.

Northwestern trailed by a 26-20 count midway through the first half but May hit on a couple of one-handers, center Kent Benson connected on four foul shots and May hit on all two more field goals to open a 45-29 lead at intermission.

Indiana maintained a 12-15 margin throughout most of the second half until Benson hit on three spectacular hook shots and May hit from the outside with one-handers to widen the Hoosier lead to 10 points with about five minutes to play.

Johnson was the Hoosiers' second-leading with 17.

Tim Teasley and Billy McKinney shared Northwestern scoring honors with 20 points apiece. Indiana is 25-6 overall and 16-0 in the conference. Northwestern dropped to 7-9 in the Big Ten and 12-13 overall.

Wisconsin-defeats Ohio State 91-79

COLUMBUS (UPI) — Tim Paterick scored 21 points and Dale Koehler 10 to lead Wisconsin to a 91-79 victory over Ohio State Monday night in a battle to escape the Big Ten basement.

Both the Badgers, now 9-16 overall, and the Buckeyes entered the game with 2-14 conference records, tied for last place.

The Buckeyes, in coach Fred Taylor's last home game, trudged all the way after Mark Newburg gave Wisconsin the lead 21-19 with 12:10 left in the first half.

Wisconsin led 30-21 with eight minutes to go and won by 15 at intermission.

Paterick and Koehler, both seniors, sparked the Badgers to their biggest margin of the contest, 63-47, with 11 minutes to go in the game. Ohio State managed to cut it to eight points on a couple occasions but every time the Buckeyes made a move, Wisconsin again pulled away.

Colbert added 17 points and Bob Johnson 16 for the Badgers, whose coach John Powless was also making his final appearance in John Arena.

Fred Pofie led Ohio State scoring with 15, followed closely by Mike Daugherty with 14, Jim Wood 13 and Clarence Hammond with 12.

Providence outlasts Villanova 89-81

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Sophomore Bruce Campbell scored 22 points and junior Joey Hassell 18 in Providence College's 89-81, Monday night.

Providence moved into the lead early in the first half, held a 43-29 lead at the half and opened it up to 61-51 with 13:11 to play. Villanova then rallied and cut the Providence lead to 77-75 with three minutes to play.

Baskets by Bob Misevichius, Campbell and a pair of foul shots by Hassell gave Providence an eight-point lead if maintained in the end.

High for Villanova was Reggie Robinson with 20 points, while Larry Herren had 12. Providence is now 10-8 for the season and Villanova is 16-9. Both teams will compete in ECAC playoff tournaments for the NCAA championships.

Providence will meet Holy Cross in a playoff game at Springfield Thursday night and Villanova will play Georgetown Friday night at Morgantown, W. Va.

Louisville crushes Bradley 107-89

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — With Rick Wilson scoring 25 points and freshman Larry Williams 18, the 17th-ranked Louisville Cardinals rolled up their highest score of the season Monday night to crush Bradley 107-89 and produce their sixth consecutive 20-win season.

The Cardinals, finishing their regular season with a 20-6 record, overcame an early Bradley lead with a spurt of 15 straight points to go ahead 21-9 and the issue never was in doubt thereafter.

In the last half, Louisville connected for a sizzling 75.8 per cent of its shots from the field to keep the Braves from getting any closer than 13 points.

Bradley, which lost to Louisville 72-71 earlier this season, was paced by Roger Puehley with 21 points. Started DeSarno with 19 and Mike Davis with 18. The defeat lowered Bradley's record to 13-12.

Louisville now goes into the Metro Six tournament, opening here Thursday to decide which team will represent the new conference in NCAA tournament play.

More time

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bob Lurie said Monday night he has requested an extension on a National League deadline to purchase the San Francisco Giants and that the Giants' ownership doesn't mind more time is needed to complete the deal.

"I'm confident we can work out the purchase," he said. "The Giants are back in the picture because it's their sale and they agree more time is needed to work things out. I'm sure we will get the extension."

A National League spokesman confirmed the request for the extension of Monday night's 5 p.m. PST deadline had been made by Lurie and James Hunt, the Giants' attorney, and that N.J. President Charles "Chic" Feeney will conduct a telephone conference Tuesday morning among club owners for a formal extension of the deadline.

New Mexico players balk at head coach

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — Five players on the University of New Mexico basketball team, unhappy with coach Norm Ellenberg, indicated Monday they might not return next season if Ellenberg is still the head man.

The five players, all of them black, were joined by former Lobo Larry Fertig in a meeting with Ellenberg to discuss grievances and problems they felt had contributed to the team's inconsistent and disappointing season.

Going into Saturday's season finale against the University of Texas El Paso, New Mexico is 15-11 overall and 7-6 in the Western Athletic Conference. Although there are no seniors on the team, the Lobos are considered a dark horse for the WAC title.

The five players, guards Ricky Williams and Dale Slaughter, forwards Larry Gray and George Berry and center Mike Patterson, are the five leading scorers on the squad. All but Slaughter are seniors. The players and Ellenberg both said they did not consider the dispute a racial situation although none of the five white players on the squad attended the meeting.

Ellenberg, who still has two years to go on his current contract, said he planned to meet with the five players individually and added, "Some of them have indicated they do not want to come back if I am here next season."

The five players, all of whom showed up for practice later in the day, complained about New Mexico's control style of play and their treatment by Ellenberg and head assistant John Whisenant.

UPI picks All-Americans

NEW YORK (UPI) — Indiana's Scott May, Notre Dame's Adrian Dantley and Maryland's John Lucas were selected today to the United Press International All-American basketball team for the second straight year.

Joining them on the 1976 first team are Indiana's Rem Benson and UCLA's Steve Washington, both juniors.

The second team consists of Rutgers' Phil Sellers, North Carolina's Phil Ford and Mitch Kupchak, Tennessee's Bernard King and Marquette's Tom Tolman.

Chosen to the third team were Tennessee's Ernie Grindell, Michigan State's Terry Purlow, North Carolina's Steve Kerr, Carroll's Leon Douglas and Oregon's Ron Lee.

The first team clearly was a consensus choice, its five members far outdistancing the rest of the field in the balloting of sports writers and sportscasters from across the nation.

May and Dantley tied for most points in the balloting with 298 each. Voters were asked to pick two teams with two points awarded a player named to the first team and one point given for a second-team selection.

May and Benson led the unranked Hoosiers to their second straight undefeated regular-season without nearly as impressive a supporting cast as the previous year, putting three of a burden on the two big men.

May, a 6-7 senior from Sandusky, Ohio, has averaged 23 points a game for the Hoosiers this season and has been the player to whom they turn in tough situations.

Benson, a 6-foot-11, 245-pound center from New Castle, Ind., has averaged 17 points a game. The combined rebounding of May and Benson has been instrumental in the Hoosiers' devastating fast break.

Lucas broke Tom McMillen's career scoring record at Maryland and averaged 20 points a game this season. Lucas, a 6-3 guard from Durham, N.C., also is one of the better collegiate tennis players in the country and won the Atlantic Coast Conference singles title as a sophomore.

Washington has led the Bruins in scoring this season with a 20-point average. Washington, a native of Portland, Ore., made honorable mention All-American last season and was voted the most valuable player in the NCAA championship.

Dantley, who has been in the national limelight since his freshman year at Notre Dame, averaged 29 points and 10 rebounds a game this season. The muscular 6-5 forward from Hyattsville, Md., probably will become UPI's multi-time All-American next season if he elects to return for his senior year.

He gave serious consideration to turning pro after his sophomore season, but withdrew his name from the NBA's hardship list to continue at Notre Dame.

A-2 clubs kickoff second tourney weekend tonight

Either Elmer of Wood River will end their season bright when the final week of district basketball tournament begins Tuesday night.

Filer and Wood River will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the CSF gymnasium and that will be the final game in Mtn. Valley.

Starting Wednesday, action resumes in the A-2 tournament. Wednesday night at Gooding, That's It! will restart its tourney night after the break.

The Filer-Wood River winner has its work cut out for it because Wednesday night, it goes up against undefeated Buell in what could be the championship session. Should Buell lose Wednesday night, sudden-death will decide it Thursday night.

Filer and Wood River split during the season with the Wolverines posting the rubber-matches decision in the tournament.

Championship semi-finals are on tap at Wendell and Gooding. Wednesday goes against Shoshone in a 6:45 p.m. game while the loser bracket semi-final means there's nothing left for the loser.

The feature will pit Givens Fury and Kimberly for key game since the winner will clinch a berth in the state playoffs opening at the CSF gymnasium March 11. The loser will go into a single game Thursday night against the Westside-Silvermine survivor and the survivor advances to the semifinals and the unseeded team Friday. That leaves Shoshone open for a possible extra session.

The game today holds true at Gooding, Bleidrich and Dietrich are lined up to play in the semi-finals, the winner going to Friday night's finale, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Camas County takes on Carey, which entered the meeting in the one-two spots for seeding purposes. That loser goes home with the winner meeting the Richfield-Dietrich loser at 6 p.m. Thursday.

The four-day restarting tournaments resume play Thursday at Mtn. Valley and Burley. The Mtn. Valley thing already has one

Sox selling tickets

CHICAGO (UPI) — Bill Veeck, whose Chicago White Sox were the only major league team to open spring training Monday, must be doing something right.

Advance ticket sales are up 40 percent over last year at this time, a spokesman for the White Sox said, with more than $900,000 worth of tickets already sold. Veeck was looking forward to a $1-million advance sale before the season opens and it appears that mark will be surpassed.

"There's been a lot of interest and excitement about the White Sox this year," said the spokesman. "We've got about 15 people out selling tickets every day, including Veeck himself, and the response has been tremendous."

Taylor surgery set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington Redskins' wide receiver Charley Taylor, who has caught more passes than anyone in the history of the National Football League, will undergo surgery to have cartilage removed from his left knee, the club announced Monday.

The surgery will be performed in a Washington hospital by the team physician, Dr. Stamford Taylor, a spokesman said.

Carroll Righter

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1976.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Everything is fine now for putting in motion a new course of action. Uncertainty could cause trouble so proceed with confidence and conviction at this time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to April 19) Some limitation could keep you from advancing now, so be sure to get rid of it.

Improving your appearance is wise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 18) Don't confide in one who gossips too much or you could lose much of value. Consult a higher-up for the data you need.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show co-workers that you will cooperate with big plans ahead. Attend the social tonight and make worthwhile friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are now capable of accomplishing a great deal where career affairs are concerned. Show devotion to mate.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Good day for any worthwhile changes, whether in business or personal affairs. Make necessary payments without delay.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) A new system can help you get rid of your obligations more quickly at this time. Strive for more harmony at home.

"LIBRA" (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Discussions with associates could lead to better arrangements for the future. A business meeting is in order.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Attend to those tasks early in the day and improve your position in life! Forget recreation for the time being.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Put your creativity to work and make a fine impression on higher-ups. Think along more constructive lines.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to establish more accord at home and be happier. A friend can be helpful to you now. Use care in motion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Making appointments with those who can help you in your career is wise. It is wise to save more than you spend.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Using a new system could add to your abundance in the future. Forget that social event where arguments could start.

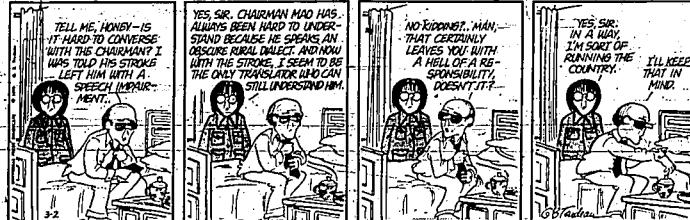

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one those pioneering persons who cannot be daunted and should be given the finest education possible in order to meet the challenges of life. Don't neglect spiritual training. Stress sports.

"The Stars impel; they do, not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Q. "When I talk about the Gabors, I mean Mother Jolie plus Eva, Magda and Zsa Zsa. How many husbands have they had, total?"

A. Just 20. At this writing.

Women who grocery shop just before lunch spend an average of $7.50 a week more—men—women who shop just after lunch—If you arrived in this world before October 1929, you turned 45 this year. The first baby ever to be born in an airplane. Don't know how many black women married white men in this country, but do know 16,419 black men are married to white women.

Ask anybody where Adam lived, and you'll be told the Garden of Eden. What few realize, though, is he only lived there 12 hours.

Understand a lot of the world's big towns are beginning to look alike. What's being wiped out, I'm told, is the individuality of Tokyo's Ginza, New York City's Broadway, London's Piccadilly, and France's Champs Elysees. Blame franchisees. At least, that's what the correspondents blame. Specifically, they say most of the old intersections are beginning to carry such names as Holiday, Sheraton, Hilton, McDonald's, Kentucky Fried, Shakey's, Pepsi, Coke. To these, add high rise office buildings, supermarkets and shopping centers. Man, I don't want to turn into one of those negative souls who sit around moaning about the old days, but this franchise thing tends to turn you sour, unless maybe you've got a piece of it.

Sir, do you remember at what age you first started to shave? Age 15 is average.

Somebody trades something to somebody for a handgun every 30 seconds, please note.

Not even all the members of the Elks Lodge know the original Elks were a bunch of New York City actors who called themselves the jolly Gorkas.

Mills' status confusing

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills' staff was confused and some Arkansas politicians were dubious today about reports the veteran Democrat has decided against seeking reelection.

In an interview with the Arkansas Gazette, published Sunday, Mills said "baring unforeseen development" he would announce by March 9 that he is ending his congressional career after serving 10 terms in the House of Representatives.

But Mills said Sunday night at West Palm Beach, Fla., he had not made a final decision. He did not say the Gazette misquoted him or misrepresented his statements.

"I've just not been able to make up my mind," Mills said. "I don't know if I want the job or not. I must make a decision pretty soon."

12 Scotland Yard officers charged

LONDON (UPI) — A dozen — nine of them — Scotland Yard's most famous detectives found themselves on the wrong side of the prisoner's dock Monday, charged with taking bribes from pornography peddlers.

The 12 Yard men — including a former murder squad chief, a one-time head of the criminalbusting "flying squad," a former obscenity squad chief and a former regional crime squad chief — crowded together into the prisoner's dock at Bow Street Magistrates court for a formal hearing which lasted only minutes.

They were freed on bail of $10,000 each and ordered to appear again March 30.

Restrictions on reporters' forbidding accounts of what was said at the court hearing, were not lifted. British law restricts reporting of magistrates' court proceedings unless specific exemption was made.

The 12 defendants, eight of them retired from the force and two others — one an ex-soldier — looked on as they stood in court to begin proceedings they had seen so many times from the other side of the law. Before the hearing there were bitter words from one of those charged about the way the 12 were arrested down stairs Saturday.

It was all "done for maximum publicity," said Kenneth Drury, who is head of the flying squad was one of the Yard's best known detectives.

"I'm disgusted."

"How can you have a fair trial when it's like this?"

Similar criticism came from former Detective Chief Superintendent William Moody, once head of the all-semen publications squad.

He and Wallace Virgo, former head of the murder squad, were among the dozen charged with taking bribes or conspiring to take money or "other considerations" over a 15-year period dating back to 1960.

The charges were linked with pornographic bookshops and strip clubs in Soho, often called London's "square mile" of sin. There were some allegations that police had sold back to strippers and clubs some of the big, explicit publications and movies seized in police raids.

Pan Am chief asks strict enforcement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American passengers abroad are at a disadvantage in getting airfares — foreign carriers because political considerations often dominate U.S. policy and international aviation negotiations, the head of Pan American World Airways said today.

William T. Scawell called for strict enforcement of bilateral aviation flights to U.S. cities, the strict enforcement of bilateral aviation agreements and the creation of a single agency to govern overseas operations by U.S. airlines.

"Most foreign governments dedicate 60 percent of their flag airlines a single, powerful governmental agency, often of cabinet rank," Scawell said. In testimony prepared for a House-Aviation subcommittee:

"In our government, responsibility for international air transportation is diffused in numerous departments and agencies."

"We need urgently a concentration of the responsibility for handling this highly important aspect of our foreign relations so this nation's best interests can be advanced effectively."

Scawell said U.S. airlines face discrimination abroad, including excessive fees for services of airports, economic incentive for travelers to fly foreign airlines, operating restrictions, denial of the use of airports, foreign-exchange restrictions and delays and denial of "fair and equal market access."

Foreign airlines serving the United States receive government subsidies on unprofitable routes when the U.S. policy is to make American airlines abandon such routes, Scawell said.

He said foreign carriers have also ignored bilateral agreements with the United States to avoid excess capacity on international routes, citing the Dutch airline KLM as "a prime example of the gross failure of international negotiations."

In foreign negotiations, political considerations are permitted to outweigh U.S. aviation interests, as they often are when there should be a "two-way street," Scawell said.

Police locate car, identify 2 of 7 kidnapers

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Police Monday identified two of the seven ultra-left kidnapers of American William Nichols, 45, a glass industry executive from Toledo.

They also located an abandoned car which was used in the Friday night abduction and recovered clothing that Nichols was wearing when kidnapped.

A "Group of Revolutionary Commandos" announced in a manifesto sent to a local newspaper that Nichols had been "arrested and imprisoned" pending a revolutionary trial for intervening in Venezuela's internal political and economic affairs.

The kidnappers said they were no longer interested in ransom and that Nichols would be summarily executed if there is any display of police repression against leftist groups.

Nichols, vice president of Owens-Illinois of Venezuela, was taken at gunpoint from his home Friday after several masked men burst in and tied up his wife, the American maid and the Nichols' three teenagers.

Police, working on Mrs. Nichols' testimony that three young men had employed to cut grass three days earlier were among the kidnappers, identified two of them Monday as an escaped guerrilla leader and another guerrilla.

Police also had tentatively identified two common criminals as participants based on face reconstructions. Orders for their arrest were issued; but police were not releasing their identifications pending further investigation.

There were no leads as to identification of the other three.

Sources close to the kidnapping division of the Technical-Judicial police said one of the suspects was Jose Andrade, Guzman Cordero, 22, one of 21 guerrilla chiefs who escaped through a tunnel from San Carlos military prison in January of 1975. Only one has been captured.

The other suspect was Angel Simon Marquez, 21, in heavily-twisted.

A car, one of two or three used in the kidnapping, was found in Maracay, about 70 miles west of Caracas. Nichols' clothing was found in the trunk of the vehicle.
